Appear as Lights

“Do all things without grumbling or disputing; so that you will prove yourselves to be blameless and innocent, children of God above reproach in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom you appear as lights in the world,” (Philippians 2:14-15)

“If we become blameless children of God, we can appear as lights in the world, and hold fast the word of life, so that in the day of Christ we will have reason to glory.”

God is light and He wants His children to shed the light of truth in this dark world. If we become blameless children of God, we can appear as lights in the world, and hold fast the word of life, so that in the day of Christ we will have reason to give glory.

1. In order to do all things without grumbling or disputing

It is very important to have peace with everybody, having no grumbling or disputing. Only then can we shine our light on the people of the world. Now, what do we have to do in order to do all things without grumbling or disputing?

1) We must be blameless and pure.

To be blameless is to have nothing that we can be accused of in all things. Of course, it is not something easy to have no blame at all in our lives or personalities. However, even if we have shortcomings, we can improve ourselves through the word of God who is almighty.

One of the best biblical examples of being blameless is Daniel. He was blameless not just before men but also God. He was of a Jewish royal family, but he was taken captive along with other Jews when Judah was conquered by Babylon. Nebuchadnezzar ordered selected young men who were endowed with understanding and discerning knowledge and who had ability to serve in the king's court (Daniel 1:4). Daniel was among those whom were chosen. The king appointed for them a daily ration from the king's choice food and from the wine which he drank. He also directed that they should be educated for three years, at the end of which they were to enter the king's personal service.

However, Daniel knew there could be meat of the abominable animals which was prohibited by God and he determined to not defile himself. He took only vegetables and water. His acts were completely blameless before God starting from a young age.

God showed grace on him and lifted him up above all people. When he managed the country as a minister, he did so with understanding and wisdom. He possessed an extraordinary spirit and the king appointed him over the entire kingdom. Some of the people were jealous and tried to find grounds to bring accusation against him, and yet, they could find none. We can understand how blameless he was (Daniel 6:4).

Next, we must have pure hearts. To be pure is having no moral failing or guilt. In spiritual sense it is to show the meekness in outward action, and to act perfectly as regard to righteousness, being blameless.

If one has clean heart having no evil, and if his behaviors, characters, and his way of life are perfect, God says he is pure. Those who are pure are edifying in all their deeds. Their personality is clean and pure, and their lives are dignified and unblemished.

When they encounter damage, they don't pay it back with evil but consider the situation only in goodness. They accept all things and exercise self-control in all respects. They don't want to talk about anything inappropriate or unbecoming. Moreover, they don't even want to harbor any evil thoughts but only live in the Light.

Job 1:1 says, “There was a man in the land of Uz whose name was Job; and that man was blameless, upright, fearing God and turning away from evil.” He had ten children and he was the richest man in the east. He did many charitable works, and he enlightened many people with his wisdom and knowledge.

God could acknowledge Job's blameless deeds, but He still allowed him tests in order to purify even his deep heart. Job lost all his possessions and children in an instant, yet he held fast to his faithfulness. And now, he had sores and boils from the soles of his feet to the crown of his head.

Nevertheless, Job did not sin before God with his lips. However, as his dire situation continued, the evil hidden deep inside his heart began to surface. God refined him and made him complete.

If we are pure in our words and deeds, naturally there won't be any grumbling or disputing, and we will appear as lights. This is what God wants us to do.

2) We must not be crooked or perverse.

To be crooked is to go outside the basic framework of men that God has established. If one is extremely arrogant, quarrels, brags, or throws temper tantrums, we can say he is out of the basic framework of men that God has established, and thus, he is 'crooked'.

As the days go by, more people are increasingly turning their bodies to lasciviousness and speaking obscene things; they very easily reveal their hard-feelings, and even commit murder. The direction of their thinking is always set toward enjoying themselves more through the pleasures of the world.

Their clothing becomes increasingly more flashy and untidy. Their make-up becomes darker and they say it is more 'sophisticated'. These things are just some examples of crookedness, and there are so many more things that are beyond the basic frameworks that God has set.

Next, to be perverse is to venture from one's position and place. For example, if the subordinate disobeys the senior or the children disobey and defy their parents, this is perverseness. If anyone does not do his duty in his position, it is to forsake his duties, and it is perverseness.

Genesis 6:5-7 says, "Then the LORD saw that the wickedness of man was great on the earth, and that every intent of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. The LORD was sorry that He had made man on the earth, and He was grieved in His heart. The LORD said, 'I will blot out man whom I have created from the face of the land, from man to animals to creeping things and to birds of the sky; for I am sorry that I have made them.'" This generation is so perverse that we can almost understand God's heart expressed in this above passage.

Therefore, God is advising us to have no grumbling or disputing, thereby becoming God's blameless children in this crooked and perverse generation. In doing so, He wants us to appear as lights in this world.

2. Hold Fast the Word of Life So that in the Day of Christ We Will Have Reason to Glory

It is explained that when you become blameless and innocent, and do not become crooked and perverse, you can do everything without grumbling and disputing, thereby appearing as lights to the world. After having appeared as lights, what is there for us to do now?

Philippians 2:16 says, "holding fast the word of life, so that in the day of Christ I will have reason to glory because I did not run in vain nor toil in vain." Here, 'holding fast the word of life' is to shine the light of God's word to the people in darkness, so that they can come out to the light.

For instance, you need to expend a lot of effort to preach the gospel to someone and to bring that person to church. But if that person abandons God after facing some problem, wouldn't all your effort have been in vain? And that's why you have to hold fast the Word of life.

For example, by reminding people of God's Word "Rejoice always," you have to urge them to rejoice always no matter what problems they may face. By illuminating God's Word, "Pray without ceasing," you have to urge people to pray earnestly to receive answers to their problems, so that they will believe in the Lord joyfully and never abandon their faith in God. And when you illuminate God's Word on love, you will have reminded them to understand and tolerate everything victoriously until they reach heaven. Then, none of your effort will have been in vain.

How can you hold fast the Word of life at home? Even in a believing family, when one of the family members becomes sick, perhaps they don't rely on God but seek medical help first. In this situation, if another member of the family testifies of the works of the living God and tries to plant faith in the family, this one is holding fast the word of life.

And if the whole family makes a decision to commit everything to God with faith, and begins imploring in love, then God will begin to work in that family. When that sick person receives healing by God's power, the faith of the whole family will grow. Unbelieving family members or relatives will also be led to believe in God when they hear such news.

I hope you will hold fast the word of God at every moment of your life, so that all your effort in the Lord will not be in vain but be stored up as beautiful rewards.

3. You Should Rejoice Even If You are Poured Out as a Drink Offering

In Philippians 2:17-18, Paul says, "But even if I am being poured out as a drink offering upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I rejoice and share my joy with you all. You too, I urge you, rejoice in the same way and share your joy with me." A drink offering is the wine that is poured onto the offering of the sacrifice. The wine that is poured out will disappear completely but it adds good fragrance, making it pleasing aroma before God.

This is the confession of the highest devotion, going beyond the level of saying, "so that in the day of Christ I will have reason to glory because I did not run in vain nor toil in vain."

The apostle Paul worked very hard in great toil and pain for God's kingdom and His righteousness.

2 Corinthians 11:23 onward explains that he was imprisoned more than anyone else; he was flogged and beaten countless times; and he faced death so many times. But Paul did not concern himself with all the afflictions he faced. He only worried about the church.

And while Paul was talented in many ways, he humbled himself and said he was “the least of the apostles” and that he was “not fit to be called an apostle.” Even though he worked so hard, Paul did not regret his work and toil, and did not expect any compensation. His way was a way of harsh thorns and at the end was awaiting his beheading, and yet he said, “I rejoice and share my joy with you all.”

After meeting the Lord, Paul’s life was a life of holding fast the Word of life, and a life of running the race of faith continually. And to this Paul, who exerted overflowing efforts in evangelism, God showed him the kingdom of heaven clearly through visions and revelations (2 Corinthians 12:1). And he professed in 2 Timothy 4:7-8, “I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith; in the future there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award to me on that day; and not only to me, but also to all who have loved His appearing.”

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Are you doing all things without grumbling or disputing? I pray in the name of the Lord that you will become blameless children of God like the apostle Paul, appear as lights in the world, and hold fast the word of life, so that your life will be filled with God’s glory and you will receive great rewards in the kingdom of heaven.

“The breast pain disappeared and the oozing sore became dry and clean.”

Senior Deaconess Youngchan Gwak
(Age 54, the 5th Parish)

In December last year, very occasionally, I had a stabbing pain in my breast. However, in early January of this year, I felt pain in the left breast and it oozed. A couple of days later, the right breast also oozed, and they did not dry out. Since lying on one side was painful, I had to lie down straightly to sleep.

At that time, the Vowed Daniel prayer meeting was being held, so I prayed earnestly about this matter in the prayer meeting. Looking back on the past, I came to realize that I said I was practicing the word of God but neglected the circumcision of heart, and that I managed my Christian life to show to other people. I repented with tears because I knew the love of God the Father and the Lord, but I couldn’t practice the Word with my heart.

It was the time to pray for the fullness of the Holy Spirit at the Vowed Daniel prayer meeting. I was attending the prayer meeting through GCN app on my phone, and my phone became hot, so my face and upper body heated up. I sweat on both sides of my breast. After that, oozing sore dried up and pain disappeared. Hallelujah!

As a result of the health checkup on February 17, there were no problems in my body. I give all thanks and glory to God the Father who healed me.

“I’m healed of herniated disc!”

Deaconess Misoon Yoon (Age 59, the 2nd Chinese Parish)

Around mid-November last year, I went to work and my back hurt so much. After a hard work, I barely managed to go to the hospital with the help of a co-worker.

The x-ray showed it was a herniated disc. The doctor said I would have to have surgery if it wasn’t treated quickly. The pain was so bad that I got injections and medication and went home. But the next morning, when I woke up, my face was swollen. I was very surprised and thought, ‘What is this?’

My daily life was difficult due to back pain. I had to move my body very slowly and carefully, and when I got up from a seat, I had to put my hands on something to get up.

At first, I simply thought, ‘I think my back must have been strained because I was doing things like bending and straightening my back.’ However, as the pain continued, while praying, I began to think about the reason why I was not protected by God.

God reminded me of how I was complaining and not being thankful even though I had better conditions now than my previous job. I repented as I realized many things, such as changing without being able to engrave grace and love. I fasted meals and prepared for the divine healing meeting in December with prayer.

On December 17, at the divine healing meeting I attended through GCN, Dr. Soojin Lee prayed for the sick with the handkerchief of power (Acts 19:11-12), and I felt my body relieved. As my lower back felt soft, I could be sure that I had been healed.

After that, when I moved my back, there was no pain at all. Hallelujah! I give all thanks and glory to God the loving Father and the Lord who guide me delicately.

FEATURE STORY

Helper the Holy Spirit, Who is with us with the heart of God

He pours out grace like a waterfall.

As written in 1 Corinthians 12, the Holy Spirit gives various gifts. If we pray with the gift of tongues, we can experience the fullness of the Spirit and joy, and feel the happiness of heaven, the spiritual space. When our spiritual eyes are opened, we can see Heaven and very beautiful spiritual beings such as angels in the spiritual realm. And when we praise, pray and be faithful in the fullness of the Holy Spirit, the joy God gives us fills our hearts.

In addition, through the work of the power of the Holy Spirit, we can experience the amazing things that are only possible in the spiritual world, and we can feel the mysterious and wonderful world of the spirit where there is no impossibility. Also, if we firmly believe that the words of God recorded in the Bible are true, we can live happily with hope in the kingdom of heaven without being attached to the world of the flesh.

Since the Holy Spirit searches the deep things of God the Father (1 Corinthians 2:10), He reveals God's secret providence and enlightens us with the heart and will of God contained in the Word. This will help us realize just how great God's love is and how deep His goodness is. Furthermore, as much as we long for that love and goodness and fulfill it in our heart, peace and joy will come to us.

Also, by enlightening us on justice, that is, the law of the spiritual world, He tells us how to live a blessed life without encountering disasters in the tough world. He guides us so that we can focus on the Lord's work and run to the fullest until the day we go to heaven.

He groans and makes intercession for me.

Romans 8:26 says, "In the same way the Spirit also helps our weakness; for we do not know how to pray as we should, but the Spirit Himself intercedes for us with groanings too deep for words."

Because the Holy Spirit is the truth (1 John 5:7), HE takes great pleasure in God's children when they follow the truth. When the Holy Spirit in our hearts rejoices, our hearts also overflow with joy, so we can follow the truth. Conversely, if we follow untruths, the Holy Spirit groans in our heart, and our heart suffers as well. When we turn and follow the truth, suffering disappears and peace and joy come.

In this way, the Holy Spirit leads us to follow only the truth, not the untruth. If we have committed a great sin because we are weak, he asks God to forgive us with groanings too deep for words, to give us the strength to turn back, and to give us another chance.

Even a soul who closes his heart and refuses to listen to its voice constantly knocks on his heart so that he can open his heart again and listen.

The Holy Spirit who dwells with people in the end times and lives in our hearts knows how much sin has stained the hearts of this generation and of each person, so He constantly asks for forgiveness and for a chance before God.

He does not give up on even the souls who want to give up on themselves, groans and prays for them, leading them to the path God wants them to take.

He knows my heart and helps me anytime, anywhere.

As it says in Romans 5:5, “and hope does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out within our hearts through the Holy Spirit who was given to us,” the Holy Spirit works in one form or another in our lives so that we can feel God’s love.

With groaning too deep for words, He makes us feel distressed, but at the same time, He comforts, encourages, and helps us.

Even during the refinement where no one seems to know my heart, sometimes He makes us feel God’s love with the rainbow in the sky, and He comforts and encourages us through the people around us. He shows that He is with us in our daily life, such as receiving what we need as a gift or earning an unexpected income for an amount we need urgently. This brings us to tears at God’s delicacy and kindness who knows every situation.

The sermons that are delivered during worship are just like what they say to us personally, and when we sing praises, we are moved by each of the lyrics. When we pray, there are times when the prayers with the necessary contents come out of our mouth as if He have put the prayer contents in our mouths. When those who are full of the Holy Spirit pray for us, they pray as if they are reading our heart and mind.

If it is as if God the Father says that we can do it and encourages us to enter New Jerusalem, so we feel that love even more. The Holy Spirit knows everything, not only our words and actions, but also our deep heart and our circumstances that people do not know about.

When we acknowledge and rely on this ministry of the Holy Spirit, He comforts and encourages us at every moment and helps us to do well.

“12mm gallstones disappeared!”

Deacon Nylander Singh
(Age 45, Deli Manmin Church, India)

In November 2019, I had severe abdominal pain, so I went to the National Hospital of India for a checkup, and as the result of an ultrasound examination, a 12 mm gallstone was found.

The doctor recommended surgery, but I wanted to be healed by faith. So, I received grace by attending various worship services through the YouTube channel ‘GCNTV HINDI’.

After that, whenever the divine healing meeting was held at Manmin Central Church in Seoul, I tried to attend through GCNTV HINDI and wanted to be healed. However, even though many people are being healed by the prayer of Dr. Soojin Lee with the handkerchief of power (Acts 19:11-12), I was not completely healed. Of course, the severe pain subsided.

As time went on, I began to wonder why I was not getting complete healing. I listened intently to Dr. Jaerock Lee’s sermons, prayed, and tried hard to discover myself through the words.

Then one day, God reminded me that I had a lot of anger and complaints. I was quiet at church, but at home I got upset about even a small matter. Realizing this fact, the love of God the Father came flooding in, and I was able to repent with tears from the bottom of my heart.

At the same time, I received Dr. Jaerock Lee’s prayer for the sick from GCNTV HINDI three times a day. Finally, on March 7, through an ultrasound examination, it was confirmed that the 12 mm gallstones had disappeared. Hallelujah!
