Nine months of sleepless nights... The blessing of sweet sleep after completing the Bible once

Soon-geum Lee | Female, 73, Dongjak-gu, Seoul

About nine months ago, I suddenly began to suffer from insomnia. Perhaps it was due to age, but no matter how hard I tried to sleep, I couldn't fall asleep until dawn, and sometimes not even until 5 a.m. Since I usually had to wake up at 8, there were days when I had to start my day with only two or three hours of sleep. As a result, I would often feel dizzy and stagger, and my eyes, which were already weak due to cataract, became increasingly dim and cloudy.

In the latter half of last year as well, I also began reading the Bible, but I had no choice but to stop midway because of the pain in my eyes. The congenital corneal opacity in my eyes was a condition difficult to treat medically, and with cataracts added, my vision continued to grow more blurred. Then I came to realize how much God delights in reading the Bible, and as I heard many testimonies around me of people becoming literate or receiving healing and answers while reading the Bible, I felt that saying I couldn't read the Bible because my eyes hurt was just an excuse.

So with firm resolve in the new year, I began reading the Bible on January 1. After completing one full reading on January 28, I attended the divine healing meeting on January 30. After receiving prayer for the sick from Pastor Soojin Lee at the divine healing meeting, something remarkable happened. Starting the very next day, I began to feel sleepy as soon as I lay down, and at night I was able to enjoy deep, restful sleep. Hallelujah!

In addition, after completing one full reading of the Bible, I read Pastor Emeritus Jaerock Lee's book, Men of Flesh, Men of Spirit, and I was amazed at how clearly and simply the Word was explained—it was so easy to understand. As I became more focused during worship services, every single word of the message felt so sweet to me. I give all thanks and glory to God who healed my insomnia and granted me such sweet, restful sleep.

The pain in the soles of my feet, which had tormented me for seven years, has disappeared

Ae-jin Seo | Female, 57, Geumcheon-gu, Seoul

For over ten years, I have been running a restaurant, working both in the kitchen and serving in the dining area. Standing all day and constantly moving without rest to attend to customers gradually began to take a toll on my body. At first, there were no particular problems. Rather, I was thankful that I was able to stay busy with my work. However, after several years, I began to feel pain in the soles of my feet. The pain was especially in the front part of my soles, but at first I did not think much of it, assuming it would soon get better.

However, the pain did not go away easily. It improved at times and then returned again, continuing like that for over seven years. As time passed, the pain went beyond mere discomfort and became something that made daily life difficult. Especially from mid-December last year, the condition worsened even more. When I got up in the morning, I had to limp as I walked, and while serving in the dining area, I nearly fell several times. Each day was filled with pain, and I even began to feel afraid, wondering, "Can I continue doing this work?"

The more it became difficult, the more earnestly I clung to God. Every morning, I prayed fervently before going to work, and whenever there were no customers, I listened to Senior Pastor's sermons. During the Sunday service, I received prayer for the sick from Pastor Soojin Lee, trusting and relying on God for healing. Without giving up, I continued to pray and move forward in faith.

Meanwhile, on Saturday, January 17, I attended the New Year gathering of the 2nd Great Grand Parish to which I belong and listened to Pastor Soojin Lee's message. Her message greatly inspired me and gave me a deeper assurance that God was with me. After finishing the message, Pastor Soojin Lee offered a blessing prayer for everyone and greeted each attendee with a handshake.

After the New Year gathering, I returned to my restaurant and worked as usual. That day was especially busy, and I spent it in a whirlwind. At first, I did not notice any change in my body. But after finishing work, a sudden thought came to me: "Huh? My feet don't hurt today...?"

At that moment, I realized that the pain which had tormented me for so long had disappeared. The same was true the next day. No matter how long I stood or how busily I moved, the soles of my feet did not hurt. The pain that had continued for over seven years was gone. Hallelujah!

Through this entire process, I came to realize that God not only healed me through the prayer of Pastor Soojin

Lee, but also granted blessings upon my business. My heart became filled with amazement and gratitude, and the anxiety and fear caused by the pain completely disappeared.

Now, without any pain in the soles of my feet, I am able to move freely between the kitchen and the dining area as I work. In the past, it was so difficult just to endure each day, but now my working hours are joyful and happy. Each day is filled with gratitude and joy. I give all thanks and glory to God the Father who healed me.

My bent back from a stair accident has been straightened

Man-soon Lee | Female, 80, Siheung, Gyeonggi

On June 20, 2023, as I was hurrying out of the house, I slipped in front of the automatic door while going down the stairs and was seriously injured. Because of this accident, my back became bent, and I developed severe pain in my spine and right leg. The next day, I went to the hospital with my son for an examination and was diagnosed with a spinal injury. I began medication and physical therapy. I also received acupuncture treatment for about ten days, but my symptoms did not improve.

After the accident, my back gradually became more bent, and every time I walked, I felt a tightness in my chest. When I went to the market, I had to stop and rest several times, and I had to walk with my body leaning forward. At night, I could not lie down straight and had to lie on my side. Although I continued treatment, my condition did not change. Then I reflected on my faith and realized that I had been living without keeping the Word in my heart. As I repented and prayed, my heart became at peace.

On November 29, 2024, I received prayer for the sick at the divine healing meeting. At that time, I had to attend the service from home through my phone, and with an earnest desire to be healed, I received the prayer of Pastor Soojin Lee. That night, I prayed, “Please heal me even while I sleep,” and then fell asleep. The next morning, I went outside and tried walking. To my amazement, my bent back had been straightened, and I was able to walk with almost no pain.

The following day, after the Sunday service, there was such a great change that I even told pastor Migyeong Hwang that it felt as though my back had been straightened. Even now, well over a year since receiving healing, I am living a healthy daily life, keeping my back straight without any pain. I give all thanks and glory to Father God who healed me.

I was healed of knee cartilage pain

Mi-ja Jang | Female, 55, Gwangmyeong, Gyeonggi

Since November 2024, I had been suffering from knee pain. I felt pain when kneeling or standing up after sitting, and at night I often lost sleep because of the pain. It was even difficult to change positions while lying down. A hospital checkup on October 18, 2025, revealed that the cartilage in my knee had worn down. I received injections, but the pain subsided only for a day or two before returning again.

I reflected on myself and repented, realizing that I had not fully relied on God and had repeatedly judged and condemned others. While participating in the Daniel prayer meeting on GCN, Pastor Soojin Lee’s prayer—“Please heal even what has aged or degenerated”—remained in my heart, and I gained assurance of healing.

After receiving prayer at the Daniel prayer meeting on November 4, I changed my position while sleeping that night and noticed there was no pain. When I woke up and moved, there was still no pain, and even now I am living in good health without any discomfort. I give all thanks and glory to God who healed me.

Born of Water and the Spirit (1)

The Pharisees strictly observed the Law of Moses and deeply cherished the traditions passed down from their ancestors. They believed in the resurrection, angels, and eschatology, as well as the coming of the Messiah. They were the leading class of Israel, taking pride in their devotion to God.

However, Jesus rebuked them harshly, saying, "Woe to you!" This was because they appeared holy on the outside, but their hearts were filled with sin, like whitewashed tombs. Although they were in a position to teach God's Word, they failed to realize the truth of Jesus and instead rejected Him, seeking to put Him to death.

1. Nicodemus, a Man of Good Heart

Nicodemus was a Pharisee, but because he possessed a good heart, he recognized Jesus as One who had come from God" by observing the signs and wonders He performed (John 3:2). As a member of the Sanhedrin, the highest council of the Jews, he was a high-ranking figure with great authority, wealth, and reputation.

He sensed an indescribable authority in Jesus who preached the Gospel through signs and wonders. Avoiding the eyes of others, he went to Jesus at night. He was afraid of people's attention. However, after meeting Jesus, he was transformed.

"Jesus answered and said to him, 'Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God.'"

John 3:3

He defended Jesus before the criticizing Pharisees, saying, "Our Law does not judge a man unless it first hears from him and knows what he is doing, does it?" (John 7:51) For a Jewish official, making such a statement was far from easy, as it carried the risk of being stripped of his position or facing persecution.

Nevertheless, Nicodemus spoke up for Jesus, which reveals how sincere he was and how firm his faith had become. This is evident from the fact that after Jesus was crucified and passed away, he brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes to prepare His body for burial (John 19:39-40).

2. The Spiritual Dialogue Between Jesus and Nicodemus

Nicodemus met Jesus and confessed, "Rabbi, we know that You have come from God as a teacher; for no one can do these signs that You do unless God is with him." Seeing Jesus perform marvelous power impossible for man—raising the dead, opening the eyes of the blind, and making the mute speak— Nicodemus believed in his good conscience that Jesus had come from heaven.

However, upon hearing this, Jesus said, "Unless one is born again he cannot see the kingdom of God." This was to awaken Nicodemus who was spiritually ignorant. Nicodemus asked back, "How can a man be born when he is old? He cannot enter a second time into his mother's womb and be born, can he?" Since he was not spiritually awakened, he could not help but ask a physical question.

In response, Jesus explained: "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Do not be amazed that I said to you, 'You must be born again.'" (John 3:5-7). He was teaching that to enter heaven, everyone must be born again of water and the Spirit so that their spirit may be revived.
